

Laura Brennan is a screenwriter, novelist, and children's author. A graduate of Yale University, she has written television, features, and theater. Nana Speaks Nanese is the book she wishes she'd had when her own mother developed Alzheimer's. She hopes it will help other families explain the changes brought on by dementia.

Learn more at NanaSpeaksNanese.com